

Disability, Home and Family in a Multicultural Context

Rāra*̄*ki Pātai Questionnaire

Welcome!

In this questionnaire we are asking disabled people and their family/whānau/aiga to tell us about their home and family, and what ‘respect for home and family’ means in modern-day Aotearoa New Zealand.

Click here to read Article 23 of the UNCRPD (Respect for Home and Family).

The questionnaire is divided into two parts. The first part will ask you about your age, gender, ethnicity, disability, and living situation.

The second part of the questionnaire includes questions about home and family. It is expected that this questionnaire will take you 30 - 60 minutes, depending on how much you share with us.

This questionnaire is anonymous, so we will not use any identifying details when we write about the findings. More information about this study can be found on the Donald Beasley Institute website. This includes the Participant Information Sheet and Questionnaire in Easy Read, New Zealand Sign Language, Word Doc (Large Print) and audio.
